Everything Ready For The Word "Go" To Start The Fun at Coleman's Big Carnival Friday and Saturday.

Two Glorious Nights of Friendliness, Fun and Frolic—Arena Transformed Into a Real Alladin's Cave, Packed Full of Good Things Waiting For You—Admission Free!

The Coleman Carnival will surpass all previous undertakings in The Fair for variety of entertainment and wealth of prizes. The purchasing committee has unearthed a veritable Alladin's cave, and space does not permit of enumerating all of the hand-me-down gifts which will be showered down on the Carnival patrons on Friday and Saturday nights. The question of where did Robinson Crusoe go with Friday on Saturday night might have been easily answered had these gents had the opportunity of attending the Coleman Carnival.

Best of all, these handsome articles will be bestowed without money and without price on the holders of the lucky tickets which can be obtained at the various booths for a nominal sum.

Large numbers of men have been at work in the rink and have prepared the largest dancing floor in Western Canada for the entertainment of the people of Coleman and District. The most popular dance orchestra in the South has been engaged to play for two consecutive nights and dancing in these unique surroundings may be enjoyed for the infinitesimal sum of 10 cents a dance. There will be no interruption except between dances and watching of the acrobatic art may perform to their hearts content without let or hindrance.

Arrangements for the refreshments are in the capable hands of the Worgen's Institute. This management ensures for the patrons a selection of epicurean delights never before assembled under one roof. Details of the menu have not come to hand, but it is a foregone conclusion that no one need bother to prepare a meal before leaving home to spend the evening at the carnival.

The bewildering array of prizes includes jewelry of all sorts, watches, clocks, trays, blankets, (especially made for Chief Wah Poo Tee, deceased,) silk cushions, dolls, bacon ham, roasting pans, chocolates and cigarettes. Lovers of music will be delighted with the arrangements made for their benefit. The famous Night Hawks Orchestra will play the latest dance music continuously, the Coleman Silver Band has kindly consented to play during each evening, and the Pipe Band, the latest welcome addition to musical circles here, will also add their quota to the evenings' enjoyment.

Admission to the big Arena is FREE, and all citizens are cordially invited to attend this Carnival of Mirth and Jollity. The committee does not wish to make money, it wants to make friends, and this Carnival was organized for the purpose of doing the people good. Whether you have money to spend or not you will have more fun at this Carnival than has been had since the baby was eaten by the pigs.

Mrs. A. McLeod reported that the Department of Education would not be in position to report who would receive Grade VIII medal given by the Institute, until some time in September. The members were disappointed as it was their intention to make the award on School Fair day.

"Roll call" was answered by a clause from the Community Property Act. Mrs. D. K. Allan read Mrs. Muir's address as appearing in the annual report.

The School Fair Committee reported they had collected $127.00.

Former Coleman Girl Married at Nanaimo.

The following account appearing in a Nanaimo paper of the marriage of Miss Beanie Graham, a former resident of Coleman, will be of interest to many Journal readers:

HUTCHISON—GRAHAM.

At 5 p.m. Wednesday, Aug. 6th, at St. Andrews Presbyterian church Rev. Mr. Lister united in marriage Mr. Robert Hutchison, son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Hutchison of Seattle, and Miss Beanie Graham, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Theo. Graham, Halliburton street. The church was very prettily decorated for the occasion by Mrs. Benson and friends of the bride. The bride entered the church escorted by her father, to the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march, played by Mr. Nelson. During the signing of the register Mrs. Muir sang "At Dawning."

The bride was charmingly attired in French imported white georgette crepe, trimmed with orange blossoms, and wearing the regulation veil. She carried a bouquet of ophelia roses and fern and was attended by Miss Mary Hart, attired in coral pink French georgette with picture hat to match, and carrying a bouquet of ophelia roses and sweet peas. The groom was supported by his brother, Mr. Alex. Hutchison. The groom's gift to the bride was a cheque and to the bridesmaid a sunburst brooch; to the best man a signet ring. Mrs. Muir was also presented with a cut glass flower vase.

After the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, where a number of relatives and friends gathered to congratulate the young couple. A very sumptuous repast was prepared and Mrs. Harrison, Mrs. W. Kenmure, and Mrs. Phillip waited on the guests. After supper the party passed a very pleasant evening in singing and other pastimes, and ended by the young couple leaving by auto for Victoria, where they will later leave on a tour of the Island. The bride's travelling suit was of almond green with hat en suite.

The out of town guests consisted of Mrs. William Berwick, of Oakland, Cal., Mr. and Mrs. F. Hutchinson and daughter Martha, and son Alex., of Seattle; Mr. and Mrs. F. Strang, Ladyamith; Mr. Robert Reid, Cumberland.

CATTLE EXPORT INDUSTRY WILL SOON BE DOUBLED

Edmonton, Alta.—If present plans are followed out, the Livestock Producers of Canada, the big feeding and breeding organization which has its headquarters at Edmonton, will during the coming winter, double the scale of its operations, which means that at least 200,000 head of cattle will be exported from the Edmonton district in the course of the next season. This is the statement of H. P. Kennedy, of Toronto, president of the company, who, with the vice-president, T. J. Irwin, of Glasgow, has been in the city in conference with local officials of the firm. Mr. Kennedy had just returned from a trip to Great Britain, where he found that not only are finished Canadian steers in demand, but there are an unlimited number of store cattle to be put in marketable condition on Scottish and English farms. He visited farms where Alberta cattle had been finished, and farmer-feeders reported to him that Canadian cattle had shown superior feeding qualities and had given them a return of as much as $10 head over those from Ireland and their only other source of supply.

He also went to the activities of the company at Edmonton, where he found that feeding yards would be opened up on a smaller scale during the coming winter at other points in the west. Calgary, Saskatoon and Winnipeg are mentioned as other possible centres of the firm's operations, but it is planned that the main headquarters of the company will be retained at Edmonton, as Mr. Kennedy is convinced that this is the logical centre for the development of an industry of this magnitude.

Will Not Exempt New Zealand

Banks and Insurance Companies to be Brought by Bombay

Bombay, India.—The municipal corporation of Bombay has refused to exempt New Zealand from the operation of a resolution passed by the corporation in March, 1923, boycotting Dominion and non-Dominion companies as a protest against the treatment accorded Indians in the overseas dominions.

A letter recently received by the municipality from the New Zealand Government urged New Zealand should be granted exemption from the boycott on the grounds that the Indians in that dominion do not labor under any disabilities.

Delegates Clash Over Opium Question

Woman Envoy From U. S. Asked To Prove Her Charge

Geneva.—Opium smuggling into the Philippines brought the United States delegate, Mrs. Hamilton Wright into conflict with the British delegates in the League of Nations opium committee. She charged that a large amount of opium was sent from British North Borneo and wanted to know why the British could not stop the shipments as India had done.

Both Sir Malcolm de Lorraine, Britain, and Sir J. Campbell, India, questioned Mrs. Wright's accuracy and she promised to produce figures.

The Indian Government informed the commission that India had stopped selling opium to Persia and to the Portuguese colony of Macao near Hong Kong, because consignments shipped to these places have been illegal.

The Indian Government stated it would follow the same policy toward other countries when there was evidence of the improper use of opium.

Possible Conference Over Irish Boundary

President of Free State May Meet Ulster Premier

London.—The possibility of another conference between President De Valera of the Irish Free State and Sir James Craig, the Ulster premier, over the Irish boundary problem, is forecast by The Daily Express.

The newspaper bases its belief on a statement that a conference will be held on a speech delivered by C. C. Craig, a member of parliament and brother of Sir James, in which he suggested the British Government invite the two Irish leaders to come together and try to effect an eleven hour settlement of the problem.

The correspondent says Mr. Craig declined to comment on the suggestion, but that he is of the belief he will agree to it.

Austrian Chief Of Staff Dead

Commanded Forces On Russian Front During First Months of War

Vienna.—Field Marshal Baron von Conrad Hoezendorf, chief of staff of the Austrian armies in the World War, died late commander-in-chief on the Italian front, died Aug. 26, at Merheimgen, in Wurtemberg, Germany.

Franz Conrad Von Hoezendorf, born in Posen, a suburb of Vienna, Nov. 11, 1862, was chief of staff of the Austrian armies when the World War began.

In the first months of the war, he commanded the Austrian forces on the Russian front, but lost prestige owing to the Russian victories in the early months of the conflict. In 1915 he was credited with having planned the strategical preparations for the Austro-German attack which swept Galicia virtually clear of the Russian forces. He was promoted in rank for his services in the field and became chief of staff of the army in the final campaign.

When Italy entered the conflict, he was given command of Austria's forces on the Italian front. He served on that front until July, 1918, when successive failures led to his replacement by Field Marshal Von Koenig.

Germany Invited To Join France in Security Pact

London.—France and her allies have invited Germany to enter into negotiation for a definite treaty intended to guarantee security in the era of peace in Central Europe.

The invitation was extended in a note handed to the German government by the French ambassador at Berlin. It is a reply to Germany's note of July 30, on the subject of security.

In their reply, the French, in common with their allies, confine themselves to observations, due to the secret nature of the document.

The points on which the French would posture all future efforts to guarantee security are that the treaty of Versailles must be modified, that Germany should enter the league, not with the reservations, as Germany has suggested, and that provision should be made for compulsory arbitration of future disputes.

The early conference between the German foreign minister and the allied foreign ministers is due.

Word came from Berlin tonight that the French, British and Belgian ambassadors had joined in a statement that the allies think advisable that their juridical experts should meet German experts as soon as possible to clear up technical questions and pave the way for a meeting of the foreign ministers. It is expected that the experts will get down to "round table business" in London this week.

Europe Paying Up

Five Countries Are Cleaning Up Debt

To Canada

Toronto.—Venturing the prophecy that Canada was on the eve of the best year for business ever experienced, P. C. Larkin, high commissioner for Canada at London, who has just returned home after a brief visit, said here that his debt to Canada had been reduced.

The amount owed to Canada by five European countries was still large, but not nearly as large as three years ago, when $20,000,000 was owing. Over $160,000,000 of that had been collected over twelve months during the past year, Mr. Larkin stated.

"What are the prospects of collecting the balance of $40,000,000?" he was asked.

"Well, literally, the balance is $27,000,000, and I think we have good hopes of getting that in, too," he replied.

"But, at any rate, we are setting interest on it for 10—something which we did not get for three years after the war."

The high commissioner was asked concerning the amount to be received by Canada under the Dawes reparations.

"We are gradually settling our allotted share," he replied. "We collected in reparation this year $12,500,000. I think that plan will be carried out each year for many years to come."

"Great Britain received her payments largely in kind, but Mr. Larkin explained, that is equivalent to gold, as the goods are immediately sold and might be sold without ever being taken to Britain for sale."

TROTTING OUT THE SAME OLD HORSE.

J. J. Gibbons, head of an advertising agency in the east which bears his name, has written a series of letters to Premier King which have been forwarded to the various newspapers in Canada. Mr. Gibbons wants a tariff wall around the Dominion that would keep everything out. Here in the West we are of the opinion that we are paying so much more for everything than is paid across the line, that if trade cannot be kept in Canada without prices being raised higher to the consumer, it will have to go.

PUBLIC SUSPICIOUS OF THE NON-ADVERTISER.

There is much more to local advertising than effort to present something at a low price. It conveys the assurance that the needed goods are stocked and that the merchant is making an effort to provide real service to his customers. The merchant who has nothing to advertise in these days of declining prices and mail order catalogues may well be regarded with suspicion by the purchasing public.

A POLITICAL BAROMETER.

The bye-election in Medicine Hat is being looked forward to by politicians of all three parties to shed light on the political situation in the province. There are three candidates in the field, Liberal, Conservative, and Labor, the latter endorsed by the government.

Blairmore School Board State Their Position

Blairmore, Alberta, August 27th, 1925

The Editor,
Coleman Journal,
Coleman, Alberta.

Dear Sir:-

So many false and misleading statements have been published in the local press in reference to the controversy existing between the Blairmore School Board and their teaching staff, that the majority of the Board deem it advisable to issue a statement of the true facts, for the benefit of the people of the Crow's Nest Pass in particular, and the people of the Province in general.

The schedule of salaries paid by the Blairmore School Board, up to and including the last school term, was recognized as being much higher than the average in the Province, and present economic conditions demanded that expenses be curtailed as much as possible. Salaries in this district had been increased for the past several years to meet the conditions of the district, until a very high peak had been reached; obviously the first place for retrenchment was the pay-roll: With this object in view the Board requested the teachers to consider a reduction in salaries approximating 10%; in fact ranging from 15% on the highest salary to nearly 5% on the lowest above the minimum; the minimum to remain unchanged. This request was replied to by a letter signed by each of the teachers stating that they were entirely in the hands of the executive of their alliance in this matter, and suggesting that a meeting with such executive could be arranged. This was the first intimation that the Board had ever received that they were expected to deal with persons other than the local staff, and in reply a letter was sent to each teacher reiterating the desire of the Board to discuss the matter with each teacher concerned, in accordance with the existing agreements, and inviting them to attend a special meeting for this purpose. At this special meeting the full staff of teachers were present, accompanied by Mr. Barnett an official of the Alberta Teachers' Alliance. The Chairman of the Board gave the staff the reasons for the proposed reduction of salaries and invited their opinions. Mr. Barnett asked for permission to address the meeting and was not given the permission. Mr. Conway, the principal of the school "demanded" to know whether the Board would deal with the Alliance; the Chairman not being in a position to give an answer to such a demand without due consideration refused to answer, and the teachers all left the room without further parley. There being no further business before the Board the meeting was adjourned. It would be well to state at this time that the Board consider the question of recognition of the A. T. A. is a provincial matter, and therefore cannot be decided by local boards.

The opposition member of the Board along with several other rate-payers presented a petition demanding a meeting of the ratepayers of the District. This meeting was duly called. About 60 ratepayers were present out of a total of about 600. This meeting elected a committee of five, who were to interview the members of the Board. At this meeting with the committee the Board placed the situation fairly before them and satisfied them on all points. Particular care being taken to place the true facts of the case before the committee, thereby offsetting the false information that had been given them by unfair speakers at the meeting and misleading information that had been published in the local press. The Board specifically stated that they were quite prepared at any time to meet a committee of the teachers themselves to discuss the question of salaries.

After ample time had been given the teachers to meet the Board, and no further progress had been made, they were all given the usual notice of termination of contract, and a statement in accordance with the requirements of the School Ordinance was transmitted to the Department of Education.

We were advised by the Department at a later date that the first notice of the meeting with the teachers to discuss the question of salaries was not worded in accordance with the requirements of the Act, and at their suggestion, (to avoid the possibility of a law suit on this technical point, and also to save the District the expense of such suit,) we repeated the notice of the meeting, using the specific wording of the Act, and we have no doubt the teachers were aware that this was merely to correct a technicality and not to bring them back here from the various parts of the province. This was followed in due course by the thirty days notice to terminate the contract; these notices were sent out by registered mail and in some cases were not received by the teachers to whom they were addressed, thereby compelling the Board to have them served by officer or by our secretary. This action of the teachers being apparently to extend the date of receipt of notice to the latest date possible.

The instructions from the Department in reference to the notices being received at such a date as would make it impossible for the Board to clear the old staff before opening school with the new staff, and open the school on the regular date, viz., Sept 1st, a request was made for a later opening of school in accordance with the provisions of the School Act, and in this connection it is better to mention that the new staff of teachers have been advised that the school would probably be opened on the 14th of September and to report for duty on that date. This is mentioned to offset the statement in the local press that the Board would be under the expense of a double staff of teachers. It is therefore obvious to anyone conversant with the facts that any delay in the opening of the school will be caused by the actions of the old staff of teachers in neglecting to accept registered mail tendered to them through the post office of the province.

The report of the meeting of the Board as published in the local press under date of Aug. 27th, was also incorrect in several items. Miss G. McR. Scott was selected as first choice, Miss Brackman as second choice and Miss Gugin as third choice for primary teacher; all the other grades have been filled. The primary position being left open awaiting acceptance of contract from Miss Chapman who was in the east at the time of mailing the contract. The extra room which was used for the latter part of last term as an overflow room, was necessary at that time, but the Board are not satisfied that it will be required this coming term, and will not open it unless conditions warrant such a move, thereby if possible making quite a reduction in the cost of operating the school. At the opening of the school last year about 520 pupils registered, while at the end of the term only about 490 were present, and since that time several families have left the district. Another item which is reported falsely is the statement that one of the members of the Board stated that 65% of the teachers of Alberta were "scabs"; that statement made by this member was that 65% of the teachers of Alberta were not members of the Alliance; this information was received from the Department and used by the member in all good faith.

A statement published in the aforementioned paper over the signature of D M. J. Conway refers to the attempt of the writer to introduce Mr. Stewart to the Board. The only question put to the Board was whether or not the Board were prepared to receive the representative above mentioned.

of the Alliance to discuss the question of the termination of the teachers' agreements. This being refused Mr. Stewart left the building without even being seen in the meeting. Mr. Conway wonders why the members of the Board have not rushed into print to refute some of the false statements made. He must have forgotten that the only item published by the Chairman of the Board was printed in the local press with the editor's comments for and against, thereby preventing a fair reading of the statement, and we would further state that the only reason that kept the Board from refusing the misleading and false statements that appeared in the local press, was: to not prejudice the standing of the members of the old staff in other school districts of the province.

Efforts have been made to place this matter on a local basis and the Board wish to state that, with reservations which are common in all affairs where eighteen human beings are concerned, they have always entertained feelings of sincere respect for the teachers of the staff. The members of the Board, with the exception of Mr. Wheatley (who has only been a member of the Board since last election) are members of long standing, the youngest being a trustee for over four years, and the majority of them were instrumental in raising the salaries of the teachers from amongst the lowest in the province to amongst the highest for town districts, and during this period were subjected to the same brand of criticism as they are now enjoying from the local press, though the critics at that time were just as opposed to increases as they are now to decreases in salaries.

One of the troubles the Board had to contend with was caused by the fact that the Principal (who, in a graded school, is practically the same as superintendent of a city school,) was also president of the local teachers' organization. You can readily imagine the kind of mess you would have if the superintendent of any local mine was also president of the local union.

The Board has done all in its power to fill the office for which they were elected in the interest of the children, the ratepayers and the teachers, and it has taken a lot of courage and patience to do it, and they will continue to act according to what they conscientiously believe to be in the best interest of the parishes above mentioned.

In all fairness to Board Member Wheatley we wish to say that he disagrees with the other members of the Board in this matter as in fact he has disagreed with practically everything the Board has done since he became a member of it.

Yours very truly,
BLAIRMORE SCHOOL BOARD
L. DUTIL, Chairman.

Twelve British newspapermen representing some of the most important dailies in Great Britain are now making a six week tour of the country over Canadian Pacific lines. They will travel from Halifax to the Pacific Coast taking in all the important industrial and scenic points of the country. They will spend a day at the Canadian National Exhibition at Toronto, and will visit the famous Bungalow Camps in Ontario, as well as the beauty spots in the Rockies. They will also visit the Macdonald Camps, the object of the tour being to correct in the minds of representative British journalists the erroneous impressions recently made in England regarding Canada by certain sections of the press.

Under the heading, "The Innocent Men," C. B. Fletcher continues his interesting series on freight rates to the August "Railway Review."

"Man's progress is measured by his adaptability to his surroundings and his opportunity to trade with his fellow men by exchanging products. Transportation is the essential instrumentality for trade, commerce or business of any kind.

"The phenomenal prosperity of the United States today is the direct result of the most efficient transportation facilities in the world — railroads."

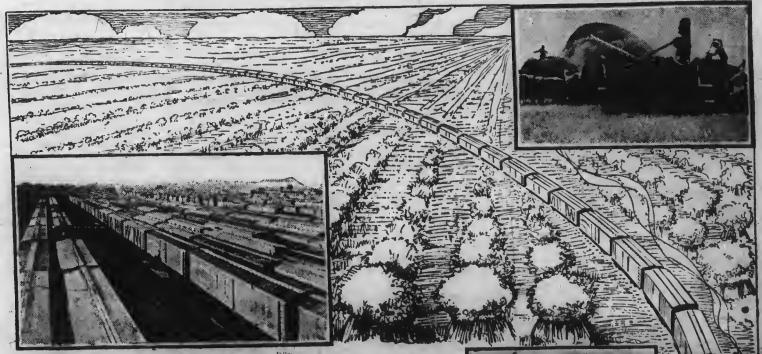

"Railroad transportation is worth ten times what it costs today to every person in this nation. The railroads haul meat 500 miles for 35 cents a hundred pounds, you pay from 20 cents for cheap cuts to 40 cents for special cuts of meat or from 60 to 180 cents for the cost of transportation."

"You pay one dollar for a meal at a first class hotel on which the freight charges were less than two cents, including everything served, and the coal to cook it, and then tip the waiter ten cents or five times what the railroad charges for hauling 400 miles of meat."

"The same man who tips the waiter ten cents will go out and make a speech and complain of high freight rates which are not one-fifth of the amount of his tip."

"Consistency, then art a jewel!"

Train 300 Miles Long to Carry Crop

Stationed at the Transcona yards, Winnipeg, and at strategic points throughout the Prairie Provinces, the Canadian Pacific Railway has 26,000 boxcars standing ready for the transportation of the 1923 crop. Of these over 8,000 ears are at the Winnipeg yard. To move this immense aggregation 650 freight and 150 switch engines will be required.

Were they all to be joined up into one train and if we further assume that this train were moving at twenty miles an hour over a level stretch of ground, a person who arrived there at 8 a.m. would not reach the end of the train until he had waited fifteen hours until the caboose passed across. This would indeed be a case where "taking a chance" would almost be justified.

Each boxcar is from 35 to 40 feet in length or an average of 35 feet.

Specifying each of four feet and taking into consideration also the 650 engines each ninety feet long, the total length of this great train would be about 250 miles which at twenty miles an hour would take close on fifteen hours to pass, giving a total distance of 3,750 miles of travel and this would take care on the first movement of the above imaginary train of 85,500,000 bushels.

Since the train in its individual movements will travel several times, an idea of what proportion of the total is estimated at 97,500,000 bushels the Canadian Pacific will have to move 12,000,000 bushels.

Among the engines used in the hauling of the wheat trains are some of the most powerful in the world. Recent weights of the engines used in the movement of the grain in the various provinces weigh about 350,000 lbs. while the boxcars, loaded with grain, weigh 140,000 lbs. The average grain train is composed of forty boxcars, so the weight is about 6,000,000 lbs. or 3,000 tons. The total number of such trains would be 875 which would give a total weight of 2,625,000 tons.

Cutting of the crops already under way and movement of the grain will commence about the end of August and will continue until the close of the harvest in October. The grain is to be shipped to the west coast by December. During the banner crop year of 1923, the Canadian Pacific Railways operated in connection with the movement of the grain approximately 51,644 trains and 25,720 men were required to handle the traffic. In that year the Canadian Pacific Railway moved 320,000,000 bushels.

Debts Of United States

Country Owes Men to Great Britain and Co-operation to Europe

Our Dumb Animals, a Boston publication, suggests that many of its readers will find Bishop Charles H. Brent, of Buffalo, express their feelings in the following:

"We are just now talking in terms of European colonies on the part of European countries which have given credits, and as we make our demands on those impoverished people, let us remember that we perhaps owe 2,000,000 men to Great Britain. How are we going to pay that debt? I do not hesitate, in spite of Congressman Hamilton, to say that I have a right to criticize the attitude of our country in this matter of debts."

"Let us remember that whatever we do in connection with them, there is another debt America owes Europe which has not paid. She owes Europe a debt of co-operation which can easily be paid, as she has given has been too generously given, with a sort of fear, I am afraid, that we might be running risks."

Clubs For Working Girls

New One Just Opened in Heart of London

The necessity, or liking, for clubs for women has extended to the city worker. Most of the big banks and insurance companies have their own catering arrangements and are able to feed their girl employees at a small cost. The firm employing only one or two girls is not so well placed, and it is for these employees that a new club has been opened in the heart of the city.

The girls members will be able to eat there at a reasonable cost as well as use the club as a social center to prepare for sports or evening engagements without first having to rush home to the suburbs.

First Japanese Woman Bandit

Young Highway Robber Lured For Adventure and Excitement

The first woman bandit in the annals of Japanese crime has been arrested by the police at Tokio after committing scores of bold highway robberies at the point of a sabre. In every case her victim was a young woman.

The young woman, who is twenty-five years old, was formerly a fencing teacher in a high school in Kyoto, but found the life too tame and, longing for adventure, she set out for Nagoya in search of excitement. She became a waitress in a Chinese restaurant, as a young woman without visible means of support would have excited the suspicions of the police.

She admits committing armed highway robbery nearly every night for the past five years. Her career of banditry was cut short by the police. Her usual procedure was to accost male pedestrians in unlighted highways at a late hour and when her intended victim paused, she threatened them with a dagger, the orthodox weapon of the Japanese robber or burglar, and demanded money.

Although crimes have been committed in Japan with women as accomplices, this is the first instance on record of a woman bandit working alone.

Refief Ship Sails For Hudson's Bay Ports in Arctic

With foodstuffs and supplies for Hudson's Bay posts in the Arctic region and Hudson's Bay, the steamer Fervor, of the Inter-Continental Transport Company, under charter of the Hudson's Bay Company, has sailed carrying stores to replace those of the Bay Eskimo, the supply steamer which sank in Ungava Bay on July 23.

Capt. J. H. Parkinson, formerly first officer of the Falchi, is in charge of the vessel. He will be assisted by Capt. J. Lloyd, who commanded the Bay Eskimo as bay pilot.

The boat, with a register of 1,019 tons, is carrying about 1,100 tons of cargo, including livestock, feed, oil, paint and a variety of other articles needed in the Arctic region. A crew of 30 has been signed on with four men as spares.

Pacific Cable Is To Be Duplicated Next Year

The work of duplicating the Pacific cable from the Fiji Islands to Vancouver Island, will be finished next year, Sir Timothy Goggin, member of the cable board and former agent-general in London for New South Wales, said on his arrival at Victoria from Australia on the liner Niagara.

As the cable section from the Fiji Islands to Australia already has been duplicated, the whole connection next year will be able to give double service, he said. Sir Timothy is on his way to England.

The second federal census was taken in the spring of 1881. It showed a population for the Dominion of 4,324,310. On May 2, the first sod was turned in the construction of the Canadian Pacific Railway. All-Steel Aeroplanes

England to India by Air in Little More Than Three Days

All-steel aeroplanes now under construction in London will make the trip from England to India, roughly 8,000 miles as the crow would fly, if he were able to accomplish it, in three days and some odd hours, according to a recent announcement of the British air ministry, under whose supervision the machines are being built.

The machines are planned that they shall be equipped with two engines developing 2,000 horsepower each, and hoped they will be able to accomplish 80 miles an hour and possibly even a greater speed. A crew of four or five will operate each machine, which will carry 20 to 25 passengers. It is proposed that these giants of the air travel day and night, these being sleeping accommodations and hot meals by means of an electric cooker.

Canada's Rising Prosperity

Country Is On Firm Foundation Says New York Paper

Obligations of the Canadian Government amounting to $90,000,000 held largely in the United States, fall due in September, and J. A. Robb, the acting minister of finance of the Dominion, has announced that $30,000,000 of them will be paid off. The balance will be refunded in New York or London, wherever the best terms can be got. In the next two months the Dominion will have to pay $100,000,000 with which to meet maturing obligations. In this is evidence of Canada's sound financial condition and prosperity, and the rapidity of the country's recovery from the effects of its notable efforts in the war.

Just as Canadians have intelligently encouraged agriculture, mining and industries, so they have built up their tourist business, making entrance into the country and departure from it simple and comfortable. Red tape has not been allowed to bother visitors, whether they stayed a day, a week or a month.

Canada is on a firm foundation. It deserves to be. It has won through from after-war confusion by pluck, toil and brains.—New York Sun.

Advantages Of Passports

Saves Delay to the Visitor in Different Countries

Negotiations between Canada and Britain for the abolition of passport requirements for Canadians visiting England have resulted in the conclusion that things are better left as they are.

The Dominion officer stated that, while the Canadians coming to this country might find it an inconvenience to procure passports, he realizes the advantages of possessing one when he reaches a British port. So long as the general passport system is in operation between different countries, the bona-fides of every person landing in a country must be established, and mere statements that a person belongs to one of the dominions is not sufficient for officials at the port. The possession of passports puts an end to all difficulty and saves delay to the visitor.

Determine Size Of Waves

Matter of Speculation Decided by Specially Constructed Camera

Reports about ocean waves fifteen yards and more in height, says a German paper, are to be classed as fairy tales.

The length and height of waves, always a source of much speculation, have now been accurately determined by means of a specially constructed camera. The camera is made of paper, and ordinary waves are from two to four yards high. They may rise to nine yards in a so-called sea, and even attain from ten to twelve yards in a violent gale. The length of the largest wave—that is, from crest to crest—is described as about 300 yards, while the time in which one wave replaces another is estimated at twenty seconds. The speed of a large wave, therefore, is about twenty yards a second, or that of an express train.

Canadian Universities

Nearly One In Eighteen of the Total Population Attends College

The total number of students in Canadian universities and colleges in 1924 was 52,639, or nearly one in eighteen of the total population, according to a bulletin issued by the Dominion bureau of statistics.

Under the category of the total number known to have operated in 1924 is 82.

Of this total six are agricultural,

two technical, two law, one dental,

one medical, one for veterinary science,

BAEE, SON OF KAZAN

by James Oliver Curwood

A LOVE EPIC OF THE FAR NORTH

Copyright, 1917, by Doubleday, Page & Co.
"BAEE, SON OF KAZAN," a Vitagraph Picture, With Wolf, the War Dog, is an Adaptation of This Story.

SYNOPSIS

Nepesee, the Willow, while hunting with her father, Pierrot, shot at Baree, the big wolf, inflicting only a trivial wound. When she saw him, the half-natural, half-wolf, she greatly regretted having fired. She pursued him to get him, but he disappeared. Baree encountered Umsik, the huge snow owl, and the two had a terrific fight, in which Baree conquered him, but was killed. This fight was good medicine for the love of Baree, giving him confidence in himself.

Baree's rock, instead of rising for a hundred feet or more straight up, was possibly as high as his man's head. It was in the edge of the thick forest, with the spruce forest close at its back. For many hours he did not sleep, but lay keenly alert, his ears tuned to catch every sound that came out of the dark world about him. There was more than curiosity in his alertness tonight. His education had broadened immensely in one way: he had learned that he was a very small part of this wonderful earth that lay under the stars and the moon, and he was keenly aware that he had become better acquainted with, without any more fighting or hurt. Tonight he knew what it meant when he saw now and then gray shadows float silently out of the forest into the moonlight—the owl, monster of the breed with which he had fought. "I heard the crackling of hoisted feet and the sharp yap-yap-yap of a fox, the unearthly laughing cry of a great Northern loon on a lake half a mile away, the scream of a raven that came floating through miles of forest, the low, soft croaks of the nighthawks between himself and the stars.

All these sounds held their new meaning for Baree.... Swiftly he ran, rushing into the heart of the wilderness. His eyes gleamed; his blood thrummed.... For many minutes at a time he scarcely moved. But of all the sounds that came to him, the wolf-cry thrilled him most. "Again and again he listened to it. At times it was far away, so far that it was like a whisper, dying away almost before it reached him; and then again it would come to him full-throated, hot with the breath of the chase, calling him to the red thrill of the hunt, to the wild orgy of torn flesh and writhing blood—till he calling, calling.

Next morning Baree found many crayfish along the creek, and he feasted on their succulent flesh until he fed that he would never be hungry again. Nothing had tasted quite so good since he had eaten the paradise of which he had robbed Sekosow the ermine.

"Down there, on a clean strip of the shore that runs out of the soft mud of the pond, waddled fat little Umsik and three of his playmates."

In the middle of the afternoon Baree came into a part of the forest that was very quiet and peaceful. The creek had deepened. In places it bank swayed out until they formed small ponds. Twice he made considerable detours to get around these pools. He traveled very quietly, listening intently. Not since the fatal day had he left the old windfall had he felt quite so much at ease now. It seemed to him that at last he was treading country where he could find friends. Perhaps this was another miracle-mystery of instinct—of nature.

He was in old Beaver-tooth's domain. It was here that his father and mother had hunted in days before he was born. It was not far from here that Kazan and Beaver-tooth had fought that mighty duel under the great tree from which Kazan had escaped with his life without another breath to lose.

Baree would never know these things. He would never know that he was traveling over old trails. But something deep in him gripped him at this memory. He sniffed the air at him if he found the scent of familiar things. It was only a faint breath—an indefinable promise that brought him to the point of a mysterious anticipation.

There had been few changes in Beaver-tooth's colony since the days of his son with Kazan and the others. Old Beaver-tooth was still older. He was fat. He still had his tail, and perhaps he was less cautious. He was going on the great mud-and-brushwood dam of which he had been engineer-in-chief when Baree came out softly on a high bank thirty or forty feet away. So noiseless had Baree been that none of the beavers had seen or heard him. He squatted himself flat on his belly, hidden behind a tuft of grass, and with eager interest watched the scene of movement. Beaver-tooth was rounding himself. He stood on his short legs for a moment; then he tilted himself up on his broad, fat tail like a soldier at attention, and with a sudden whipe dived into the pond with a great splash.

In another moment it seemed to Baree that the pond was alive with beavers. Heads and bodies appeared and disappeared, rushing this way and that through the water in a manner that amazed and puzzled him.

The beavers lost no time in getting at their labor, and Baree watched and listened without so much as rustling a blade of the grass in which he was concealed. He was trying to understand. He was starting to place these curious and comfortable-looking creatures in his knowledge of things. They did not alarm him; he felt no uneasiness at their number or size. His uneasiness was not the quietness of creation, but rather of a strange and growing desire to be born again, joined with this curious four-legged brotherhood of the pond. Already they had begun to make the big forest less lonely for him. And then, close under him—not more than ten feet from where he lay—he saw something that almost gave voice to the puppyish longing for companionship that was in him.

Down there, on a clean strip of the shore that runs out of the soft mud of the pond, waddled fat little Umsik and three of his playmates.

Baree, disconcerted, Goliath, the huge snow owl, and the two had a terrific fight, in which Baree conquered him, but was fully as badly and almost as wide as he was long.

And then, of a sudden, someone saw Baree. It was a big beaver swimming down the pond with a sapling timber for the new dam that was under construction. He loosed his hold and faced the intruder. Then, like the report of a rifle, there came the crack of his big flat tail on the water—the beaver's signal of danger that on a quiet night can be heard half a mile away.

"Danger," it warned. "Danger—danger—danger!"

Scarcely had the signal gone forth when all were crackling in all directions on the pond, in the hidden canals in the thick willows and alders. To Umsik and his companions they said:

"Run for your lives!"

Baree stood rigid and motionless now, in amazement he watched the four little beavers plunge into the pond and disappear. He heard the sounds of other antlered bodies striking the water. And then there followed a strange and disquieting silence. Baree whined and his white tail shivered in a sobbing cry. Why had Umsik and his little mates run away from him? What had he done that they didn't want to make friends with him. A great loneliness swept over him—a loneliness greater even than that of his first night away from his mother. The last of the sun faded out of the sky as he stood there. Darker shadows crept over the pond. He looked back into the forest, where night was falling. He was alone, with another whining cry he slunk back into it. He had not found comradeship. He had not found friend.

And his heart was very sad.

CHAPTER VII.

For two or three days Baree's excursions after food took him farther and farther away from the pond. But each afternoon he returned to it—on the third day, when he discovered a new creek and Wakayoo. The water was fully two feet back in the forest. "This is a different stream. It sang merrily over a gravel bed and between chimney walls of split rock. It formed deep pools and foaming eddies, and where three first struck it, the air trembled with the distant thunder of a waterfall. It was then he saw the first signs of life.

He was in old Beaver-tooth's domain. It was here that his father and mother had hunted in days before he was born. It was not far from here that Kazan and Beaver-tooth had fought that mighty duel under the great tree from which Kazan had escaped with his life without another breath to lose.

Art in Government Publications

"Camping in Canada" and "Canoeing in Canada" are Two Most Attractive Booklets

There has just been issued by the Canadian Government two of the most attractive booklets that have ever come to an editor's desk. These are "Camping in Canada" and "Canoeing in Canada," the product of the natural resources intelligence service of the department of the interior. Differing from the general conception that a mass of colors is necessary to attract attention, these booklets are simple in black and white only, but the quiet dignity and good taste displayed give an irresistible appeal, and are evidence of the ability of those who conceived and executed these attractive booklets. The booklets constitute an invitation to see Canada, and set forth in an impelling and readable way the advantages which Canada enjoys and the inducements she has to offer both her own people and visitors from other lands in the way of camp grounds and canoe routes. No one can read them without feeling the call of the land and the urge for the great open spaces. What communion with nature is underlined, what demands of traffic are unheard, peace and safety reign supreme, and the life of the wilderness purifies its unbroken course through the ages. The booklets are illustrated with a series of artistic pen and ink sketches by Mr. A. E. Ellas, while the text is the work of Mr. Ernest Vorobieff, both members of the staff of the natural resources intelligence service of the interior. One of the booklets is a paper written exclusively and the other is done at the Government printing bureau. Mr. F. C. C. Lynch, the director of the service, is to be congratulated upon the excellence of the new publications.

A sample copy of "Camping in Canada" costs 50¢. Address Canadian Government, Ottawa, Ontario, or the nearest post office.

Canadian Dollar Rises Above Par in the United States

The Canadian dollar, in rising above par in the United States, is contributing to the South Bond, inst. Trifine, doing something so notable that Canadians may well take great pride in it. In this case it evidences, says the Tribune, "the soundness of business conditions in Canada and the increase of export trade."

Hard Work and Hard Thinking

Most Concentrated Attention on Work

If ever there was a time when New Scotians should be thinking, it is this time; thinking in the terms of economic progress, this is the time; thinking in the terms of farming, fishing, fruit raising, mining, lumber, manufacturing. People should be subordinate, and auxiliaries—nothing more—to minds that are concentrated on working out the economic salvation of the province.

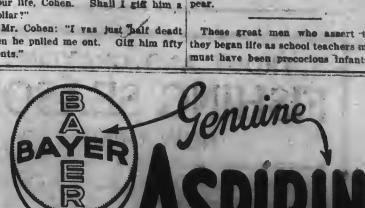

This quality of thinking—intensive concentration on the material elements of personal development and progress—will be particularly important as we get out of ruts. And lifted out of ruts, instead of being satisfied with what the past records, New Scotians will be resolved to hew out new avenues of activity, making it their motto: "If can be done,"—Halifax Herald.
